Bold Robberies in History

Here was a man who was considered the king of highway robbers. I do not know whether he had read the story where the prowess of Gil Blas was put to the test when he was left alone to do a daring deed on the road, while the bandits looked on from the distance to ascertain the amount of pluck which the neophyte would exhibit, but it not the daring feat of the hero of the bagne was more remarkable. He determined—he alone—to rob a diligence, and he succeeded. At nightfall he placed a number of sticks through the bushes by the way side, which had the appearance of muskets and were intended to represent a number of robbers concealed behind. As the diligence approached a voice was heard, as if haranguing a body of men: "Ready!—obey orders!—no firing if there be no resistance—no needless bloodshed!" An armed man walked forth from behind the bushes, stood before the horses, cried out, "A terre, vous, conducteur! down! ventre a terre! Comrades, attention! eyes on the alert!" The horses stopped, the postillion and the conductor descended, they lay with their faces in the dirt. The screams of ladies were heard from the carriage. "Ladies, be not afraid, there is no cause for alarm. We are too gallant to do any mischief to the beau sex. Lads, no firing!" The robber opened the door of the interior. Besides ladies there were three military officers, of whom two were colonels, among the passengers. "One at a time, messieurs, and as they came out, one after another surrendered his belongings. "Ventre a terre," was the command given to each. All that they saw in their confusion and in the half darkness was the musketry pointed at the vehicle, and all that was heard was the appeals of the women, the cries for mercy, "Don't hurt us, take all that we have." Assurances were repeated that their lives were safe, the commands were reiterated, "No firing, no firing!"

There was not a single passenger who was not lying with his face on the ground when the robber marched away with a gracious "Adieu! messieurs and mesdames," apparently to join the rest of the band. It was some time before any one of the prostrate ventured to raise his head. The first who did so observed the barrels of the muskets still directed menacingly towards them, and hid his face in silence. As all noise had ceased, they took courage, a consultation took place, the fire arms were found to be sticks, with nobody near them. The robber was afterward arrested, a large portion of the property was traced to him, and it was found that he alone had fleeced the whole company. It was said that the officers had their swords with them, and it may well be supposed that many a joke was launched at the spirit they had displayed. No wonder that such a performance should be admired in a community of ruffians, and that such a performer should be looked upon with respect and admiration.

There was another felon whose history was yet more remarkable, for it was once distinguished by a succession of frauds, carried on in high places, and with a success which might have seemed incredible. The man had been brought up in a convent, of which, at the time of the French revolution, he had become a bursar. He disappeared with all the money that belonged to the brotherhood, and his steps were never traced. Some time afterward, a person wearing an Episcopal dress, and bringing letters of recommendation to the high clergy of one of the remoter provinces, appeared as the bishop of —— (I forget the title) and was received with all the attention due his supposed rank. In those days traveling was difficult and tardy, and communications between distant departments infrequent. His reverence baptized, married, and buried those whose friends were delighted to have the rights performed by so elevated a dignitary, the confirmations were numerous, and many priests applied to him for ordination, which he graciously conferred. He became the distributor of private and public charity, and had a considerable sum of money in his hands secured from many sources. One fine morning the bishop was everywhere sought and nowhere found. Enquiries were instituted and the sad discovery was made that the credentials were forged—that the "father of God" was a "son of perdition," that his acts were something worse than invalid, that the most serious consequences to persons and property had resulted from his misdoings, and it was long before the law and the lawyers, the church and its instruments, could repair (and they could only imperfectly repair) the mischief he had wrought. All the attempts to discover the mischief maker failed. Having gathered in his harvest on the ecclesiastical domain, he naturally enough doffed his clerical robes. It was amongst men of business, with letters of introduction and credit—fraudulent of course—that the adventurer next levied his contributions. There the money-making and the money watching experience of the mercantile body secured them against any long continuance of successful roguery, especially on a large scale and practiced by strangers; so having negotiated bills and obtained money for a considerable amount, the "honorable traveler" had taken himself off before notices of protest had come from the accrediting bankers.

The last and boldest enterprise of our adventurer led to his capture and to his delivery to the galleys. It was a daring attempt to defraud the military chest of a general division, and it was in the uniform of a military officer, having all his papers in order, that he presented himself at headquarters with authority to receive no small sums of money. But whatever knowledge a rogue may possess of the financial machinery which controls the army expenditure of France, and however dexterous and inventive that rogue may be in the concealment of fraud, it is not easy for him suddenly to usurp a position which will enable him to accomplish his fraudulent designs. The extraordinary good fortune of our friend had blinded him to the difficulties of his enterprise. Danton's advice which even on the field of politics, is not always success—"De l'audace, de l'audace, et toujours de l'audace!"—has been the reef on which rascaldom has frequently been wrecked, and there our bishop, merchant and soldier was—wrecked and ruined.—Cornhill Magazine.

From Montana—Fight for the Championship of Montana

The following is from the Post of Jan. 6th:

On New Year's day, Patsey Marley, of New York, and Con Orem, the Colorado Champion, met for their third and final passage of arms in the prize ring at Leviathan Hall, which was fitted up for the occasion. The result was the complete victory of Orem who, by hard hitting, science and pluck, knocked his man out of tune and time in ninety-nine well fought rounds, occupying two hours. The victor came off without a black eye and received only a cut lip, by way of "Patsey Marley—his mark." He was walking round all comfortable, during the evening. A fall in Marley's corner at the thirteenth round, sprained Orem's right wrist badly, and he carries his arm in a splint and sling. Marley, we are told has started after the rising sun. He lost nothing in the shape of character, for he did everything in his power, and left off the best whipped man we ever saw. On the previous occasion, Orem was miserably out of condition, and the knuckle of the middle finger of his right hand was badly ulcerated and swollen, in the present case he could barely close his hand, but the ulceration had subsided. Before the last fight, Con offered $500 to postpone the battle, but could not obtain the privilege, which was a matter of grace and not of right. Thinking that he could still whip Marley he challenged him again. The actual stakes deposited, we are informed, were $700, the gate money was $2,000. Marley was well seconded by Joe Reilly and Mike Doane. Con appeared under the fostering care of Ludwig ("Dutchy") and Connolly. He owes his seconds a great debt for better attendance and nursing was never given to a man in the ring. Harris the sure hand, Con was in tip top order. Marley looked well and jumped out of his flannel like a squirrel. He appeared a little soft in the flesh, but there was no soft spot in him after the word "Time." He fought bravely to the end of the battle and succumbed only to the hard hitting, greater physical power and science in his antagonist. There were no intentional fouls, on either side, during the fight, which was fair and square all through. Some of Marley's friends maintain that he had "visited the bottle" before coming into action, but he was as lively as an eel when he came to the scratch. George Williams was Con's umpire, and J. A. Nele acted for Marley, a gentleman from Leavenworth was chosen referee, and called time. It is not our intention to describe this contest minutely, suffice it to say that Con won the first three events—first blood, first knock down and the battle. The first blood appeared upon the left arm and cheek of Patsey in the second round, the knock down was the finish of the fourth round and was administered by Con's right on Marley's cheek. For the first six rounds Marley had rather the best of the fight, but he gradually lost his lost his lead up to the twentieth round, falling behind until the fiftieth, after which his defeat became a mere matter of time. In the fifty first round, Con doubled with his right, catching Marley so heavily under the ear with the last blow, that Patsey became blind, for some time, so much so, that in the next round he spun round, and, striking wildly in the direction of the referee, fell from the force of his own blow. Marley, at Helena was able to throw Con on a fair wrestle, here the case was reversed, as on almost every occasion Con back heeled Marley. The first decided impression made by Con, was a heavy and scientific "cross buttock," in the fourteenth round, which told all through the fight. Marley got in one or two of his favorite right hunders on Con's ribs, but missed more than forty of them, his opponent jumping back out of harm's way. The game fellow took heavy punishment unflinchingly, but it was of no use. During the fight Con had to open his damaged hand several times. Once he had oakum in it, and for several rounds cotton batting, but he finally threw them both away. An agreement was made that "small fouls" were not to be counted, but the best man was to win, which in the opinion of nine out of every ten men present, was undeniably the case. For the last twenty rounds Con handled his opponent as he pleased. From the fifty-third round, Marley's left eye was blinded, and the other following suit. Con rushed the fighting, Marley only getting in an occasional smack on Con's ribs. After the ninety fourth round, Marley fell under the ropes, and struck his forehead on a log, lying just outside, which must have hurt him considerably. Three-fourths of the fight was on Marley's side of the ring; Con drawing a line several times with his toe and pointing to the scratch, for Marley to come on. In the last round, time being called, Marley went to the referee, claiming a foul: time was again called, and Orem—who had been standing at the scratch—rushed at Marley and knocked him flat, with a blow on the walls of the victualing department. This settled the battle and the controversy. Marley strove hard and gallantly to win the battle, but he was out-generalled and out-fought. It was the fairest stand-up fight we ever saw, except that of Shannon and Harvey. Con wore a black belt. He looked very sober at first, and Marley seemed certain of victory, smiling like a May morning. We presume there will be no more fighting between the men, for their relative merits are conclusively settled. At the conclusion of the fight, Con turned two handsprings in the ring, in spite of his sprained wrist. Marley lay apparently insensible in his blankets.

Colorado

A few days ago the gentlemen whom the people of Colorado Territory have sent to Washington to represent their interests in the Senate of the United States in case their application for admission into the Union should be favorably acted upon by Congress, were courteously favored with the privileges of the senatorial floor pending the action of Congress relative to the organization of a State government for the people whom they represent. It was expected by many of her citizens, that Colorado would have been admitted into the Union in time to have a voice in the final abolition of slavery throughout the nation but in this they were disappointed, partly by the engrossing nature of the business before the National Legislature in the beginning of the session, and in some degree by the influence of a portion of their fellow-citizens who are not yet ready for a State government. However, it is probable that Colorado will be represented upon the starry flag next Fourth of July, making the thirty-eighth glittering gem upon our glorious banner.

This proposed new State is bounded on the north by the district known as Wyoming Territory and Nebraska, east by Kansas and Nebraska; south by New Mexico and the Indian Territory, and West by Utah. It lies between lat. 37° and 41° north, and long. 102° and 109° west. Its surface occupies an average elevation of more than six thousand feet above the sea level. Denver City, situated near the source of the South Fork of Platte river, is the capital city. Four great rivers find their sources in Colorado—South Fork of the Platte running north-east, the Rio Grande, whose direction here is mostly south, and the Colorado, which carries its majestic waters south-westward to the Gulf of California. Besides furnishing an abundant supply of the best of water, those great streams afford a water power which must ever constitute one of the chief elements of the wealth of Colorado, and exercise a most salutary effect upon the climate of that favored country.

There is much that is interesting in the history of Colorado, that it is almost impossible to say what should be selected for notice in a condensed sketch. As early as the middle of the sixteenth century that wild region was penetrated by Vasquez de Coronado, a bold Spanish explorer. The mountains at the source of the Platte and Rio Grande were traversed in 1802-3 by Gen. Pike and in 1820 by Long's Expedition. Subsequently several explorations were made by the direction of our Government, the most noted of which is, perhaps, that of Fremont in 1842-3. In 1858, George Russell, an old Georgia and California miner, led a band of adventurers into the mountains near the head of the South Fork of the Platte river on a prospecting tour, and discovering washed gold in small paying quantities at the place where Denver City now stands, established a settlement there. In May, 1859, the Gregory mines were discovered and their vast extent led to the speedy commencement of quartz mining which has since been continued with varied success, and on the whole, with results so productive as to be highly encouraging. A Territorial law divides the Gregory mining district into claims of one hundred feet in extent, and there is in that place alone room enough for over 800,000 surface claims on quartz lodes. The veins vary in extent from six inches to nine feet in thickness and in quality from those which will not pay at all to those which produce as rich ore as the most celebrated leads of Owyhee. There are several mines in Colorado which are said to be of equal extent and richness with the Gregory district. The gold mines of the Territory are estimated to have produced about twenty millions of dollars in 1864 and from thirty-five to forty millions in 1865. The Governor of the Territory states in his message for 1865, that the average yield of the ore is thirty dollars per ton. In some instances one hundred and fifty two hundred and even five hundred dollars per ton have been realized and some specimens have assayed as high as one thousand five hundred dollars per ton.

Foundries have been established in the Territory, but most of the machinery is still purchased in the eastern States and hauled by ox teams across the plains—a distance of five or six hundred miles. After the Pacific Railroad gets into operation this expenditure will be greatly reduced.

Nor is gold the only mineral found in Colorado—lead, iron and coal, can be obtained in great abundance.

The white population of Colorado in 1860, as shown by the census of that year, was 30,321, in 1864 it was estimated at 60,000, and it is now reported at about 80,000. Schools and churches are being established throughout the country, and already several of its cities support daily papers.

As the mines constitute the chief element of wealth, so they absorb the attention of most of the people, and little regard is as yet paid to agriculture. There are some very fertile valleys and other portions properly irrigated, would produce good crops. Less than half the supplies of provisions consumed by the miners is the product of their own soil. Yet, so profitable is the farmer's avocation there, that it is predicted by those who are competent to judge, agriculture will some day be even more remunerative than the mines on account of the constant demand for supplies in the adjacent mining districts.

Whether admitted now or compelled to wait a few years longer, Colorado is destined to be an ornament to the Union. Carved out of the mountains, she will form an imperishable link which with others like her, will fill up the once vacant and apparently useless space between the Mississippi and the Pacific, and convert the desert waste into garden spots of wealth, beauty and strength to our truly great and free nation.

KIRBY.—This prisoner, sentenced to have been hung on Thursday last still lives, his punishment having been at the last moment commuted to imprisonment for life. A brother of the condemned arrived with the document on Thursday morning, having traveled all night through a severe storm and almost impassable snow. Had that brother perished in the attempt to come through how noble would have been the sacrifice.

The Governor has by this act promoted the ends of justice according to the faith and practice of the Government under which he holds, and according to the faith and practice of the people of the Territory over which he governs.—Idaho World.

CONSISTENT.—Enumerating the "cardinal principles" of its political creed, the Review expresses the belief "that the army should be withdrawn from those [the late rebel] States and the work of restoration to law left to themselves." This is not a new principle of Democracy. The policy of withdrawing the army from "those States" has been a leading feature of the "Democratic party" for several years past.

CAUGHT AT LAST.—On Sunday evening January 14th, 1866, the Sheriff of Boise county arrested at Centerville the notorious Wm. Wells who murdered the Sacramento Sheriff and two deputies in 1860. He holds a requisition for him from Gov. Low of California. Deputy Sheriff Tyson proceeds to California with the prisoner for the delivery of whom a large reward was once offered. They will come to Idaho and get [illegible].—Idaho World.

It is hoped that it may save the city from being sacked.

The other million [illegible] filled until the first steamer sails. The directors it is understood will consist of Wm. H. Aspinwall, S. W. Comstock of the original Pacific Mail Steamship Company and six others [illegible] among whom will probably be [illegible]. The statement that the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Captain G. V. Fox, has resigned his position to take the Presidency of the company is fully confirmed. Capt. R. H. Pearson [illegible] the service of the old company on the Pacific has been offered his choice of ships in the new line, and Capt. Lapidge recently dismissed from the service of the old line will take the first steamer, which is expected to sail from New York early in March. Capt. Stout, for many years in charge of the steamer arrangements on the Isthmus has gone there to perfect similar arrangements for the new line. The Panama Railroad [illegible] observe strict neutrality between the contending lines. It is proposed to run semi-monthly trips only at the beginning. The new company begin with four side wheel steamers of the well known New Orleans Star Line of steamers also four propellers. The steamers employed on the Pacific side will comfortably carry from eight hundred to one thousand passengers. It is believed there is an abundance of business for two first class lines at handsomely remunerating rates.

Land Sales.

WASHINGTON, Feb 13.—Reports of the General Land Office, show cash sales of 25,000 acres at Marysville, California, and at Oregon City 2,900. Three thousand one hundred acres were taken the same month under the homestead law.

Miscellaneous.

Great indignation is felt by the Parishioners of [illegible] Sunderland's church because the trustees allowed the use of the edifice for an address by Fred Douglass.

Reports are afloat that Mr Adams, Minister to England, is about to resign and Mr Motley, now Minister at Vienna and Mr Marsh at Florence will be named for the succession.

South American News.

NEW YORK, Feb 10.—The Herald's Panama correspondent says it is to be regretted that Valparaiso has no fortifications or armament to resist attack. It is hoped that no orders have been given to the combined fleet of Peru and Chile to attack the Spanish fleet—not being strong enough they might come to grief. The Spanish fleet is admirably appointed, and pronounced among the most perfect in the world. The third article in the treaty between Peru and Chili stipulates that any foreigner in the naval service of either, may, if competent, be advanced to the supreme command of the fleet.

The French Gold Medal for Mrs. Lincoln.

The Tribune's Paris letter says the gold medal for Mrs Lincoln, subscribed for in France, will be presented by E. M. Albert, member of the Provisional Government of 1848 who will visit the United States for that purpose.

The Commercial's London letter says there is no probability of the early reduction of the bank rate of interest, and that seven percent is the utmost reduction expected.

The Concord Bank Robbery.

BOSTON, Feb 10.—The mystery surrounding the robbery of the Concord Bank, on Sept 25th, is partially cleared. Two of the robbers were captured a few days since and $190,000 were recovered, being about two thirds of the total loss. It is believed three persons were concerned in the robbery, and the third will be arrested soon. The money recovered has been paid to the officers of the bank.

Visit of Delegates from the Virginia Legislature to the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb 10.—A delegation from the Virginia Legislature visited the President this morning for the purpose of delivering resolutions approving his policy. Speaker Baldwin said Virginia accepted the result of the contest in good faith and recognized the United States and the Government, and said the people would use the freedmen justly. The President replied, expressing his pleasure at meeting so influential a delegation.

CHICAGO, Feb 11.—The President's speech to the delegation of the Virginia Legislature yesterday contained several important declarations, conspicuous among which were the following: He said, I do not intend to say anything personal but at the beginning of the recent gigantic struggle there were extreme men North and extreme men South. This great fault was kept upon the anvil and hammered during the rebellion, and has been hammered ever since the rebellion, and there seems to be a disposition to continue hammering until the Government is destroyed. I have opposed that system always. I oppose it now. The Government is certain of its powers and in the maintenance of the principles of the constitution has taken hold of one extreme and with the strong arm of physical power put down the rebellion. This other extreme which stands in the way must get out of it. The Government must stand unshaken and unmoved upon its basis. The Government must be preserved. I hope that all the people of this country, in good faith and in the fullness of their hearts, will fix upon the principles which you have enunciated here to-day, of the maintenance of the Union laying aside every other feeling for the good of a common country, and with uplifted faces to heaven swear that our goods and our altars and all shall sink into the dust together rather than that this glorious Union shall not be preserved. I am gratified to find the loyal sentiment of the country manifesting itself in these expressions, and now that an attempt to destroy the Union has failed, I trust we shall go on, determined to preserve the Union in its original purity against all opposition.

After some further conversation between members of the delegation and the President, the latter said: If now the country can arrive at a point at which these States are all restored, each having its representation in the national council, with the Union restored so that we can proclaim peace and good will among the people of the United States, it will be to me a very happy day. I care not what may be said in taunt or jeer, but I tell you that whenever that point is reached the measure of my ambition will have been filled.

The Bushwhacker Hoax in Missouri.

ST LOUIS, Feb. 10.—It is announced that the reported appearance of bushwhackers near Independence was a hoax, in which Gov. Fletcher and Gen. Pope were alike sold.

There was an excitement in Springfield, Mo., on Tuesday, the 6th, growing out of an affray in which a man named Coleman was killed by one Orr. This, together with other real or imaginary wrongs, exasperated the country people to such a pitch that they raised an armed force of about one hundred men and marched into the town on Tuesday, the 6th, determined to have a change. Meanwhile a meeting of citizens and the council was held, the police were removed and the City Marshal resigned. This appeared to give satisfaction to the country people, and with the exception of a few youngsters, they left for home peaceably and quietly. Great complaint was made of the manner in which the policemen made arrests for violation of the ordinance relating to carrying fire arms.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 11.—Robert S. Clyde a lawyer, fell from the balcony of a house last night and received several dangerous wounds on the head. The physicians consider his condition critical.

The grand jury ignored the charges of forgery against Thomas H. Loehr the State Prison Clerk, on account of the services he has rendered the State in aiding to secure the conviction of the gamblers. Through the use which has been made of him in the premises the State has recovered more through the fines of the sporting gentry, who were the cause of Loehr's fall than it lost through his embezzlement and forgery.

H. C. Mendheim was fined $300 or two months imprisonment for vending obscene pictures.

Eighty tons of opium were recently seized which Chinese merchants had attempted to smuggle in this port.

Albert Wyatt was arrested last night for stealing about $200 in Australian sovereigns and $100 in American coin.

The steamer Moses Taylor sails to-morrow morning.

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the Common Council was held last evening at 7 o'clock, Mayor Failing presiding.

[illegible] were present: Messrs. [illegible], Dale, McCraken, Plummer, Reynolds and Thompson.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Schuyler having taken his departure for the east, tendered his resignation.

On motion of Mr. Thompson the resignation which had up at the table and leave of absence was granted Mr. Schuyler. It being stated by members of the First Ward that they desired to retain the services of Mr. S. [illegible], as he was a very active and efficient member of the Board. Should circumstances arise, they could be at liberty any time to take up the resignation, accept, and elect a new member, but under other circumstances, as Mr. Schuyler was elected for the two years term, it was desirable that he remain a member.

Chief Engineer Young, of the fire department, called the attention of the Council by communication, to needed repairs of the cistern at the intersection of Taylor and Third streets, and repairs urgently needed at the House of Company No. 1, and Company No. 2. The matters were referred to the fire and water committee with discretionary power.

The committee on fire and water reported three methods for making permanent repairs to seven fire cisterns on First street, along the line of the proposed improvement by laying the Nicolson pavement. The methods would cost—for each cistern—respectively $100, $165 and $210. The plans were referred to committee on streets and public property.

The Street Commissioner was authorized to cause to be erected at the corner of Vine and First street an iron lamp post, and connect the same with the gas main.

The committee on streets and public property reported favorably upon the bills of the following contractors, for street work, and warrants were authorized for the several amounts, to be paid out of appropriate funds for street improvements: Charles A. Stewart, sidewalk in front of block 214 on Washington street, $180; John H. Perry & Co., crushed rock for repairs to Front street $45; M. McAbbott, filling street, $5; H. McMillen, lumber for repair of First street, at intersection of Stark, $10; J. H. Perry & Co., McAdamizing in front of blocks 18 and 19 on Washington street, $1,120.

A plan for ornamenting the City Plaza, was reported by the committee on streets and public property and approved.

The petition of sundry persons praying that Park street between Salmon and Stark, should be opened by setting aside the Parks and opening the streets around them as designated on the map of the city—after having been [illegible] by the Judiciary committee, on consultation with the City Attorney, was reported upon adversely—the committee deeming it inadvisable to recommend any action in the premises that would tend to recognize the claim that the Parks and thirty feet of street on either side was private property, as sufficient reasons exist for maintaining the contrary. The report was adopted.

The City Surveyor submitted an estimate of the cost of improving First street by laying Nicolson pavement, &c., from the center of Vine to the north line of Madison streets, except at the crossing of Washington street—the estimate at the intersection being from $22, to $485, and in front of each lot in the vicinity of $300. The estimate was received and referred to the committee on streets and public property.

The monthly report of the City Recorder for January, 1866, was received—showing a receipt of $178 50 in coin on account of costs, fees of Recorder $192 05; fees of City Marshal $178. Report accepted.

Warrants were authorized in payment of claims against the city as follows: J. Cohn, clock for Council Chamber, $35; J. Wilson, three cords wood, sawed and split, for Council Chamber, $35; J. J. Hoffman, fees as City Recorder, for month of January, $192 05; H. L. Hoyt, fees as City Marshal, month of January, $178; board of city [illegible], month of January, $60.

An appropriation of $3,024 84 was made in payment of a note held by Messrs. Ladd & Tilton against the city. Also, an appropriation of $6,835 to apply on contracts for the improvement of Washington street, between the center of Third and the east line of Park streets.

An act [illegible] requiring tenants and occupants of property adjacent to streets improved, or hereafter to be improved, to scrape and sweep the street once each week, passed the second reading.

On motion, the Council adjourned.

THE VANCOUVER ISLAND MAIL SUBSIDY.—That our own people may realize how widely awake other sections are to their own interests, we copy from the Victoria Chronicle the following: "The subsidy for carrying the mails between this port and San Francisco, was yesterday awarded to the Hudson Bay Company for one year, at the rate of $1,500 each trip, not less than two trips to be made in each month. The steamer Labouchere will be sent to San Francisco direct, in a few days, to make the first trip under the [illegible]. The rate of freight, we learn, will be $6 per ton, a price at which most of the [illegible] will bind themselves to give the company all their San Francisco freight. The fare will be fixed at a low rate, and there is every probability that Victoria is now about to be brought in such close proximity to San Francisco that travel between the two ports will be looked upon in the light of a pleasure trip rather than a five weeks voyage, as has too often been the case this winter. The company, with commendable alacrity, will immediately fit the Lab there up as a first class passenger boat, the plans for the alterations, which will cost $5000, are drawn. It is said that passengers embarking in the Labouchere at San Francisco will be furnished, if desired, with tickets to Big Bend at the low rate of $40 and $60." A contract has, also been awarded, to parties who are [illegible] by it to construct a wagon road to Kootenai Lakes, on which two steamers will be running regularly by the 15th day of April.

THE WEATHER.—Although clear and beautiful, the weather has been growing colder since Monday, and wore yesterday a very threatening appearance. We did not consult the thermometer, but it appeared to us that had we have had the snow which [illegible] in the [illegible] of January the weather would have been equally as severe as at that time. The climate of Oregon is certainly favorable to the economical production of stock, but the experience of the past winter have been quite [illegible] to satisfy our people that there is a [illegible] for due preparation for the contingency of a bad winter. The heavy fall of snow in January, east of the C[illegible] range should act as a timely warning to stock-raisers there to make preparations against the recurrence of the like another year. In this valley we hear of more or less losses on account of the failure to provide [illegible] for stock. Some of the dairymen, who supply this city with milk, have had much trouble from the same cause. The Mountaineer, in speaking upon this subject, says it is a liberal calculation that half a ton of hay to each head of horse or neat stock will, upon an average, secure them from any possibility of starvation, and this proportion should annually be cut and cured.

CIRCUIT COURT.—E. D. SHATTUCK, J. February 13th and 14th, 1866. Six indictments were presented by the Grand Jury, two of which were [illegible] "not a true bill, viz: State vs. Alden McAllister, and State vs. J. Dorsey, James Barrey, and John Harrison, the defendants were discharged and sureties exonerated.....James W. King, by his guardian, Wm. King, vs. Jonathan Simpson, Jury empanelled plaintiff submitted to nonsuit.....R. J. Ladd vs. John Lyon. Judgment for possession of Live Oak George, in favor of plaintiff, and for the sum of $250 damages.....Ladd & Tilton vs. W. S. Wells and Wm. H. Bennett. Suit on promissory note. Judgment for plaintiff for $902 20.

THE DEL NORTE.—We see by our Victoria exchange that the steamship Del Norte was at that port on the 7th, [illegible] for San Francisco. Her visit to those parts was caused by the failure of Amos Phinney & Co., of the Port Ludlow Mills. The object of the charterers of the [illegible] was to attach the mill property on Puget Sound; but they were four hours too late—Phinney, the resident partner, having assigned everything for the benefit of his Washington Territory creditors. It is said the total liabilities will reach $800,000. The mill hands are owed about $20,000 for labor, but are secured. The Del Norte is a new California steamer, recently in the Crescent City trade. At the time she was launched we were told she would run to Portland, but so long as the old, rotten tubs last we have no hope of seeing a new steamer here.

THE LATE OUTRAGE UPON PASSENGERS.—The late outrage committed upon [illegible] in this city en route to San Francisco, from Victoria, as we hoped it seems has not been allowed to pass unnoticed. From a letter published in the Colonist of Victoria, we are informed that after receiving the shameful treatment those passengers did, a majority of them decided to bring action against the steamship company for damages, and a few purchased new tickets, preferring to hold the tickets they had received at Victoria as evidence, in testing the case to learn whether travelers' rights will not be protected as well as the rights of steamship companies. We trust justice may be done them in the premises.

CANDIDATES FOR PORTLAND.—From various parts of the State we learn that a number of Candidates for the Penitentiary are soon to be placed on trial. One of the Bloody 14th, and J. Stewart Lewis may be expected from the Dalles. The Mountaineer protests against an effort now making for the pardon, or partial reprieve, of Henry Trickle, lately convicted for the robbery of a Mr. Alby on the road from Granite Creek to Umatilla. The murderer, Lewis, recently captured and taken to Canyon City by Sheriff Berry of Grant county, is too deep a dyed villain for Portland. His neck will be very likely to break in the tight-rope performance at Canyon City.

ANOTHER MARINE DISASTER.—The bark Mustang, from San Francisco to Victoria, was wrecked on the coast of Vancouver's Island, on the 21st of January, vessel and cargo a total loss. Capt. Toby, and his second officer, Mr. Beaumont reached Victoria in a canoe on the afternoon of February 6th after having been picked up by Capt. Spring—the same man who saved the crew of the ship William Tell. Spring has within two years rescued the crews of three wrecked American vessels from starvation, and is deserving of a public testimonial for his humanity. No lives were lost by the wreck of the Mustang. The vessel was insured for $15,000.

MAILS FOR VICTORIA.—The Victoria people are complaining about their mails from San Francisco, and are in doubt as to how they are to get it. Some think it would be forwarded to Olympia from Portland, and sent over by the Eliza Anderson, others that a special steamer would come here for it—others that it would go to Victoria by the Pacific. We regret that we cannot enlighten our friends in regard to the subject.

THE SOCIABLE.—Notwithstanding the unfavorableness of the weather last evening, there was a good attendance at the sociable for the benefit of the Presbyterian Sabbath school, and the participants enjoyed the occasion much. Mr. Law is entitled to great credit for his method of sustaining the school, which has become one of the very best in the city. It is truly a well conducted Sabbath school.

WATER.—The supply of water in this city was generally cut off yesterday, but as many supposed on account of Jack Frost, but from the effects of a tree falling across the main leading to the city from Balch's Lake. It will be all right to-day.

LOST.—We are requested to state, for the benefit of the person who found a ladies' mink muff at Couch's wharf, on Tuesday evening or yesterday morning that he will be suitably rewarded by leaving the same at this office.

THEATER.—The play of "William Tell" and the musical farce of the "Loan of a Lover," were performed at Willamette Theater last night. The bill for to night is admirably arranged and ought to draw a full house.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 30, 1865.

In the last ten days very little important political news has transpired, and as a matter of course a letter written under such circumstances must be comparatively dull. Congress has been enjoying the holiday season for nearly the entire ten days, and there is very little going on at the capitol. The President as a matter of course suspends his appointments for it would be deemed discourteous if not unconstitutional if he were to make an appointment to office when Congress had a brief recess an adjournment over the holidays. So he is making no appointments.

The President's health is excellent. He seems to be enjoying himself and his position. The great controversy on the subject of the early restoration of the States, which some of the newspapers will have it is now going on, does not seem to disturb him. He receives everybody pleasantly—his political enemies as well as his friends. This is undoubtedly good policy, whatever his purposes may be.

There has been a good deal of excitement this week over a rebel riot in Alexandria last Monday. I cannot call it anything else, for two or three hundred young men who have served in the rebel army paraded the streets of this old town yelling at the top of their voices for Jeff Davis and Gen. Lee, and insulting Union men and Unionism. This was but the beginning, however. They soon began to seek out negroes for punishment, going so far as to break up quiet meetings. Negro women were insulted, men were attacked and several killed outright. If the Government had not speedily send down a strong military force, it is probable that hundreds of negroes would have been killed. Union people (those who had been known in Alexandria through the war as warm Union advocates) were compelled to remain within doors and avoid the scoundrels in the streets.

It is not strange that this matter is creating excitement among the so-called "radicals" in Congress. It should do so. The manifestation seems to indicate a very ugly feeling on the part of a class of the Southern people, and the question is asked at once—is it safe to hand back to such men their old right of making laws for the country?

I am glad to say that the Government is determined to punish the miscreants who are responsible for the outrages on Monday. Mr. Stanton has ordered Gen. Augur to investigate the affair thoroughly, and to punish the guilty parties. That is, military law is invoked. The local authorities will not be permitted to settle this business, as they would like to do, by dismissing the cases on the payment of a small fine. It is but a few weeks since a returned rebel shot a Union major dead in the streets of Alexandria, and a jury, or rather a justice before whom he was brought, acquitted him at once. This sort of justice does not suit Mr. Stanton, and it will not be tolerated in this case where the poor negroes were the innocent sufferers.

General Howard's report and the accompanying documents are now before the country. The documents which accompany it merit equal attention. One of them consists of a dispatch from Edisto Island to Secretary Stanton, and it was written by General Howard. He informs the Secretary that he has had an interview with the freedmen and has done his best to persuade them to put up with the bad faith of the Government; but he adds that they are sorrowful over the fact that the Government has broken the promise it made to them through General Sherman. Turning to General Sherman's order last winter, I see that he did give to the freedmen certain lands to be theirs, and he referred them to Congress for a confirmation of their title, yet it is indisputable that the Government has attempted to violate this promise. Senator Sumner, therefore, has introduced a bill into the Senate which confirms the title and makes the blacks who are upon those lands possessors of the soil. Their case is a very hard one in whatever light it is viewed.

The following table which I cut from General Howard's report, is interesting, as showing the monthly aid afforded to the freedmen:

Consolidated Monthly Report of number of Rations issued to Refugees and Freedmen (dependent) in the different Districts and States respectively, for the month ending September 30, 1865.

DISTRICTS.	No. rations issued to refugees.	No. rations issued to freedmen	Total No. rations issued
North Carolina	420	136,930	137,350
*Virginia		275,887	275,887
District Columbia	247	31,547	31,794
*Texas		35	35
*Louisiana		65,180	65,186
Missouri and Arkansas	309,456	101,766	421,222
*Kentucky and Tenn		66,750	66,750
Mississippi	11,766	68,355	80,121
Georgia and S. Carolina	2,913	197,349	200,262
Alabama	45,771	36,295	82,066
Grand total	370,543	1,030,100	1,400,643

The present Congress is in a fair way to take good care of the interests of the Pacific slope. If it does not it will not be because there are not some very able men in it from Oregon and California. Already a number of prominent measures have been introduced. Let us look at them for a moment. Mr. McRuer, of California, has introduced into the House a bill to confirm the title to certain lands in California and provide for their survey. The preamble sets forth that there is a large class of persons in California who purchased honestly and supposed that they had taken the necessary steps to confirm the title, but who find now that they made a grievous mistake. Therefore, Mr. McRuer proposes that in all cases where the title was obtained from the Mexican Government, it shall be held good in the courts of the United States, and that the holders of the lands shall be entitled to have them surveyed by order of the District Court of the United States.

Senator Stewart introduced at an early day, a bill in the Senate to define the jurisdiction of the District and Circuit Courts of the United States for the districts of California, Oregon and Nevada. It was properly referred, but if I recollect aright nothing has yet been done with the bill. The same thing is true of his bill to establish a Mining Bureau. It will probably be found sometime during the present session. As the House and Senate have now each a committee on mines and mining, it will at the proper time receive due attention. Mr. Conness introduced a bill on the 25th, which permits any citizen who is in the business of coal mining on the public lands to enter one hundred and sixty acres to embrace his improvements.

Some of the ablest men in Congress are from the Pacific coast. Mr. Conness is one of the readiest debaters in the Senate, and though he is somewhat dogmatic in his style, and occasionally a little overbearing, he is quite popular and has much influence.

The new Senator from California, Mr. Cole, will be warmly received when he arrives.

The new Senator from Oregon, Mr. Williams, is making an excellent impression upon the Senate. Mr. Nesmith rarely mixes with the debate but when he does he always enlivens it. The Senate is sure of something witty and entertaining when he rises; and he is the soul of many a little senatorial circle where "lunch" is the principal object of attraction. The "Hole in the Wall" is destroyed to make room for the library extension, and a notable place is abolished, but there are others where members of Congress occasionally get together to discuss a plate of soup and a bottle of claret.

In the House the members from California are making their mark. Mr. Higby is already an influential debater. Mr. Henderson, of Oregon, is one of the busiest of the members, and will not neglect the interests of his State.

There has never been a time when California was so ably represented in Congress as at the present time, and the result (in practical legislation) will prove the truth of my assertion.

There is also a very friendly feeling towards those States in Congress, and anything in reason that its Representatives and Senators ask, will assuredly be granted.

Everybody is discussing the prospects of a speedy restoration of the Southern States to representation in Congress. It is generally understood that the President is very warmly in favor of an early restoration. Congress undoubtedly favors a waiting policy and a majority of both Houses seem inclined towards inaction. The rebellious States for the present are outside and they cannot get inside without Congressional action. Therefore a majority think the best policy is to do just nothing at all. The Reconstruction Committee has a majority of moderate radicals, but the straight radicals are in the minority. There is therefore, not the slightest prospect that the views of Mr. Stevens in the House, or of Mr. Sumner of the Senate will be adopted. A policy halfway between Mr. Sumner and the President will be adopted (such is the look at present), and it will be carried out. There is no chance whatever for the admission of the Southern claimants this session. It is barely possible that the Tennessee members may get in (by the skin of their teeth) at the close of the session.

Thus, (if I am right in my prediction) the issue will be carried to the people in the elections of next autumn. Congress will make up the issue as it chooses and will carry it into the Congressional elections. No issue of equal suffrage will be presented, but something like the following will be—equality of representation. The rebel States, compelled to abandon their old plan of representing the blacks where they will not confer suffrage upon them. In other words representation hereafter must be based upon votes. A majority in Congress evidently do not believe it is yet safe to hand back political power to the rebellious States, and they propose to tell the country so.

The Senate recently passed a resolution calling upon the Secretary of War for information on a certain point. It asks whether any[illegible] had been paid a salary by him (this is the language though not the language of the resolution) who had not taken the oath of loyalty. He is compelled to reply that W. H. Holden, of North Carolina, B. F. Perry, of South Carolina, Lewis E. Parsons, of Alabama, and Thomas Johnson, of Georgia, have drawn pay at the rate of $3,000 per annum as provisional governors. This was the salary Mr. Lincoln paid Mr. Johnson when he was military governor of Tennessee. There is no law for this expenditure and it is in open violation of the law establishing the loyalty oath, yet it will not provoke comment in Congress, because every member knows that the President was taking the best course (in his judgment) towards restoration. The office of Military Governor is unknown to law or Constitution, yet the President has been compelled to take new steps all through the "experiment" he has been trying. The money for the salaries of these provisional governors was paid out of the contingent fund of the War Department.

The Secretary of the Treasury has appointed men to office in the South who could not take the legal oath but he claims they have worked without pay. It has been suggested here that in cases where they were collectors they took their pay out of the moneys in their possession. Whether they did or not, it is not a safe position to place any collector in—handling money for nothing. The trouble was in finding anybody who could take the oath. Still there are Union men in all the States who assert that no very thorough search was made after men who could take the oath.

The latest news from the South (as I close this letter) is all favorable. The Christmas holidays have passed without any trouble in any quarter, and the enemies of the colored race have been predicting trouble for months, when the holidays shall arrive.

The Mexican imbroglio is unchanged, but there are signs of a change. It is whispered in diplomatic circles that our minister in Paris—Mr. Bigelow—has arranged with the French Foreign Minister for the withdrawal of the French troops from Mexico, with the understanding that the American Government will prevent, so far as is within its power, any illegal expeditions—any attempts on the part of American citizens to drive Maximilian out of Mexico. In short, he is to be left to the Mexicans. If this contingency arises he will soon quit Mexico, and it is rumored even now that he is making his preparations to leave for Europe.

E. G. RANDALL, P. M.

Portland, Oregon, Feb. 12, 1866.

The specific object of the Money Order system is to afford facilities for the safe transfer through the mails of small sums of money, so as to prevent as far as possible the loss of money letters, which contain generally but small sums. For this reason the maximum amount of a money order is limited by law to thirty dollars. Hence it is not intended that this system shall assume the functions and interfere with the business of Banks and of Bankers, by furnishing exchange for large sums of money. The mode by which safety is secured consists in leaving out of the order the name of the payee or party for whom the money is intended. In this respect the money order differs from an ordinary bank check.

An advice or notification containing full particulars of the order is transmitted by the issuing Postmaster to the Postmaster at the office of payment. The latter is thus furnished, before the order itself can be presented, with the necessary information to detect fraud, if any should be attempted—thus insuring the transfer of small sums of money without danger of loss.

The Case of Jeff Davis

On the 10th of January the President transmitted to the Senate a message in reply to a resolution calling upon him to inform that body upon what charges Jefferson Davis is confined and why he is not brought to trial. The President encloses reports from the Secretary of War and the Attorney General, and at the same time invites the attention of the Senate to that portion of his annual Message which refers to Congress the question connected with the holding of Circuit Courts of the United States within the districts where their authority has been interrupted.

The following is Secretary Stanton's report on the subject

REPORT OF SECRETARY STANTON ON THE SUBJECT

WAR DEPARTMENT, Jan 4, 1866—Sir: In the annexed Senate resolution, passed December 21 1865, referred to me by you for report, I have the honor to state, first, that Jefferson Davis was captured by United States troops in the State of Georgia on or about the 10th day of May, 1865, and by order of this department has been and now is confined in Fortress Monroe, to abide such action as may be taken by the proper authorities of the United States government.

Second, That he has not been arraigned upon any indictment or formal charge of crime, but has been indicted for the crime of high treason by the Grand Jury of the District of Columbia, which indictment is now pending in the Supreme Court of said District. He is also charged with the crime of inciting the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, and with the murder of Union prisoners of war by starvation and other barbarous and cruel treatment towards them.

Third—The President deeming it expedient that Jefferson Davis should first be put upon his trial before a competent court and jury for the crime of treason, he was advised by the law officer of the government that the most proper place for such trial was in the State of Virginia. That State is within the judicial circuit of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, who has held no court there since the apprehension of Davis, and who declines for an indefinite period to hold any court there.

The matters above stated are, so far as I am informed, the reasons for holding Jefferson Davis in confinement, and why he has not been brought to trial.

Fourth—Besides Jefferson Davis, the following persons, who acted as officers of the rebel government, are imprisoned, to-wit:—Clement C Clay, at Fortress Monroe, charged, among other things, with treason, with complicity in the murder of Mr Lincoln, and with organizing bands of pirates, robbers and murderers in Canada to burn the cities and ravage the commerce and coasts of the loyal States on the British frontier; D. L. Yulee, at Fort Pulaski, charged with treason while holding a seat in the Senate of the United States, and with plotting to capture the forts and arsenals of the United States, and with inciting war against the government; S. R. Mallory, at Fort Lafayette, charged with treason, and with organizing and setting on foot piratical expeditions against the United States commerce and marine on the high seas. Other officers of the so-called Confederate government, arrested and imprisoned, have been released on parole, to abide the action of the government in reference to their prosecution and trial for alleged offenses on their applications for amnesty and pardon. Among these are G A. Trenholm, Secretary of the Treasury; John A Campbell, Assistant Secretary of War; James A. Seddon, Secretary of War; John H. Regan, Postmaster General; R. M. T. Hunter, Senator; Alexander H. Stephens, Vice President, and sundry other persons of less note.

EDWIN M STANTON, Sec'y of War

The Attorney General's report is as follows:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, Jan 4, 1866—To the President: Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt from you of a copy of the resolution of the Senate of the United States, of date the 21st of December, 1865. In that resolution the Senate respectfully requests to be informed upon what charges and for what reasons Jefferson Davis is still held in confinement, and why he has not been put upon his trial. When the war was at its crisis, Jefferson Davis, the Commander-in-Chief of the army of the insurgents, was taken prisoner, with other prominent rebels, by the military forces of the United States. It was the duty of the military so to take them. They have been heretofore, and are yet, held as prisoners of war. Although active hostilities have ceased, a state of war still exists over the territory in rebellion. Until peace shall come in fact and by law, they can rightfully be held as prisoners of war. I have ever thought that trials for high treason cannot be had before a military tribunal. The civil courts have exclusive jurisdiction of that crime. The question, then, arises, where and when must the trials thereof be held? In that clause of the constitution mentioned in the resolution of the Senate it is plainly written that they must be held in the State and district "wherein the crime shall have been committed." I know that many persons of learning and ability entertain the opinion that the Commander-in-Chief of the rebel armies should be regarded as constitutionally present with all the insurgents who prosecuted hostilities and made raids upon the Northern and Southern borders of the loyal States. This doctrine of constructive presence, carried out to its logical consequences, would make all who had been connected with the rebel armies liable to trial in any State and district into which any portion of those armies had made the slightest incursion. Not being persuaded of the correctness of that opinion, but regarding the doctrine mentioned as of doubtful constitutionality, I have thought it not proper to advise you to cause criminal proceedings to be instituted against Jefferson Davis or any other insurgent in States or districts in which they were not actually present during the prosecution of hostilities. Some prominent rebels were personally present at the invasion of Maryland and Pennsylvania, but all, or nearly all of them, received military paroles upon the surrender of the rebel armies. While I think that those parties have no ultimate protection against prosecutions for high treason, I have thought that it would be a violation of the paroles to prosecute those persons for crimes before the political power of the Government has proclaimed that the rebellion has [illegible].

It follows from what I have said that I am of the opinion that Jefferson Davis and others of the insurgents [illegible] [illegible] in person especially [illegible] [illegible] may be [illegible] though [illegible] flagrant [illegible] between the United States [illegible] peaceful relations between the government and the people in the States and districts in rebellion have not yet been fully restored. None of the judges of the Supreme Court [illegible] held courts in those States and districts since hostilities ceased. When the courts are [illegible] and all laws can be peacefully administered and enforced in those States whose people rebelled against the government; when that peace shall have come in fact and in law, the persons now held in military custody as prisoners of war, and who may not have been tried and convicted for offences against the laws of war, should be transferred into the custody of the civil authorities of the proper districts, to be tried for such high crimes and misdemeanors as may be alleged against them. I think that it is the plain duty of the President to cause criminal prosecutions to be instituted before the proper tribunals, and at all proper times, against some of those who were mainly instrumental in inaugurating and most conspicuous in conducting the late hostilities. I should regard it as a direful calamity if many who the sword has spared the law should spare also; but I would deem it a more direful calamity still if the Executive, in performing his constitutional duty of bringing those persons before the bar of justice to answer for their crimes, should violate the plain meaning of the constitution or infringe in the least particular the living spirit of that instrument.

I have the honor to be, most respectfully,

JAMES SPEED, Attorney General

ARRESTED.—On Thursday of last week, Mr John A. Sufforn, a highly respected resident of this town, was arraigned before Judge Ross, upon a charge of breaking into, and extracting articles from a cargo of Annuity Goods, shipped from Olympia last October, on board the steamer J. H. Libby, for the Indians on the Tulalip Reservation. After hearing the evidence, the accused was required to give bonds in the sum of one thousand dollars, which he readily did, for his appearance at the next term of the District Court. On Monday last, Capt Libby was also arrested on a like charge, and after waiving a preliminary examination, gave bonds in the sum of two thousand dollars for his appearance at the next term of court.—Seattle Gazette, Feb 9th.

General Remarks.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used; but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp. An instrument subject to stamp duty but issued and used unstamped, prior to August 1, 1864, may be rendered valid by stamping it as required by section 163 of the Act of June 30, 1864. If issued since, the case falls under section 158 of said Act, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1865.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than by writ, viz. summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a justice of the peace, notary public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings.

Certificates of Loan, in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and cancelled by either of them.

In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

THE STANDARD AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS.

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment.

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first-class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship, as the best and only reliable table.

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges, who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office, and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ, in the construction of our tables, a variety of machines specially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture.

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards, and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials, we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player, M. Berger, has published the following opinion:

NEW YORK, 21 August, 1861

"On the eve of leaving the United States, I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that, after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior, that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.

"BERGER, CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first-class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "BILLIARD CUE," a journal published in the interest of Billiards, and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news, and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application.

M. E. HUGHES,
730 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal., is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
